Okedokes!

Working on the rest of comments. Have a meeting on cooling water today and should be meeting with NRC this week as well. Hoping to get feedback from HQ as well soon, so we can look back over the ones that needed work and then I can do another final review of the comments and permit before week is over. Although that might be overachieving lol. Anyways, talk to you soon and enjoy the week!

You probably had this, but..... we will need to do briefings on the final. I think it had some slides on top issued raised by commentors and our responses. This top TRSc piece will also probably be needed for the OMB review document.
